

JULIETTE BONTEMPS

CNRS – CESSP – Gendhi
54 Boulevard Raspail, 75006 Paris, France

juliette.bontemps@ehess.fr

EDUCATION

- 2022 - Present PhD Candidate, Sociology, EHESS, Paris
Dissertation title: “Social inequalities in colorectal cancer care”
Supervisor: Muriel Darmon (CNRS/EHESS)
- 2022 M.A., Social Sciences, EHESS/ENS, Paris (highest honors)
Second year thesis: “Social health capital, household and illness: how to care about and for someone with cancer”. Supervisor: Muriel Darmon (CNRS/EHESS)
First year thesis: “Acculturating parents. A contribution to the study of reverse socialization”. Supervisor: Wilfried Lignier (CNRS/EHESS)
- 2020 B.A., Economics, Sociology and History (after classes préparatoires aux grandes écoles in Social Science), University of Burgundy Europe, Dijon (honors)

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Sociology of health and illness: determinants of social inequalities in health, cancer, kins, health professionals
Intersectional sociology: class, gender, race, and age relationships of power
Qualitative methods: ethnography, interviews, archives

PUBLICATIONS

Bontemps, Juliette. 2025. “‘I Don’t Have a Crystal Ball’: Time Control during Colorectal Cancer Treatment.” Social Science & Medicine 382:118384. doi:10.1016/j.socscimed.2025.118384.

PAPERS UNDER REVIEW

Bontemps, Juliette. “Conceptualizing emotional labor in cancer care as a gendered system”. Under review at Travail, genre et sociétés

WORK IN PROGRESS

Bontemps, Juliette. “Social variations of the medical relationship during colorectal cancer care”. Chapter in Handbook of gender and health inequalities, result of research conducted in the ERC Gendhi. Expected publication in 2028 at La Découverte (Paris).

CONFERENCES

Presentations in academic settings

- 2026 Bontemps. J, “Medical Socialization to Emotional Labor: Historical Roots and Gendered Division of Labor”, Symposium on “Training Healthcare Professionals: Learning the Job, Learning on the Job”, Poitiers
- 2026 Bontemps. J, “Aging with and because of cancer: how does illness contribute to inequalities in old age?”, Symposium on “Retirement, Old Age, and Social Class”, Paris
- 2026 Bontemps. J, “Uneven expressions of pain before and during colorectal cancer treatment”, Symposium on “Pain and gender: the end of a neglected relationship?”, Paris
- 2024 Bontemps. J, “Age-related social dynamics in cancer care”, Symposium on “Age as a relationship of power?” - Tours
- 2023 Bontemps. J, “Family and siblings’ relationships during colorectal cancer”, Symposium on “Children and young people faced with the disability or illness of a loved one: experiences, knowledge and know-how”, Lyon

Presentations in non-academic settings

- 2025 Bontemps. J, “Perspective from the Humanities”, healthcare symposium, Vendée Hospital
- 2025 Bontemps. J, “The role of Social Science Research in Hospitals”, School of Advanced Studies in Public Health, Rennes

Organization

- 2026 “The social uses of the body”
Symposium, Aubervilliers
- 2024 “Practical ethics: is the sociology of health and illness an exception in the field?”
Symposium, Aubervilliers

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Lecturer

Introduction to Sociology, Department of Economic and Social Administration, Fall 2026, Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne University (undergraduate level)
 Sociology of work and employment, Department of Economic and Social Administration, Fall 2026, Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne University (undergraduate level)
 Socialization and Health Seminar, since 2025 and ongoing, EHESS (graduate level)

Instructor

Quantitative Methods, Department of Political Science, Fall 2025 and Winter 2026, Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne University (undergraduate level)
 Sociology of social stratification, Department of Economic and Social Administration, Winter 2024, Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne University (undergraduate level)
 Sociology of social mobility, Department of Economic and Social Administration, Winter 2024, Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne University (undergraduate level)

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS

External Funding

- 2022-2026 Doctoral Fellowship, National Centre for Scientific Research of France -
European Commission ($102,000)
- 2026 Dissertation writing retreat, Social Science Program, PSL University
- 2024 Social Science Program International Visiting Grant, PSL University ($2,700)

Internal Funding

- 2024 EHESS International Visiting Grant ($3,500)
- 2022-2026 CESSP lab (European Center for Sociology and Political Science), x3
- 2022-2026 ERC Gendhi Project, x4

ADDITIONAL RESEARCH AND TRAINING EXPERIENCE

- 2022-2027 Member of the Gendhi research team – ERC-2019-SyG 856478 Gender and Health Inequalities
- 2024 Visiting Graduate Student, Department of Sociology, University of Michigan
- 2023 Fall School “Biological Sex and Gender in Health: Interdisciplinary Scientific Exchange Between Biological and Sociological Approaches”
- 2023 Quantitative Summer School about Geometric Data Analysis

SERVICE

- 2023-2025 Graduate student representative, CESSP lab